A photograph showing a hand holding a printed version of the Blanko flyer. The flyer is held in front of a trade show booth for Blanko. The booth features large displays of the Blanko logo and the tagline 'Reliable Blanket Solutions'. The flyer itself is a white card with blue and yellow accents, containing the same information as the digital version shown on the left. The background is slightly blurred, showing other parts of the trade show environment.

بونصر

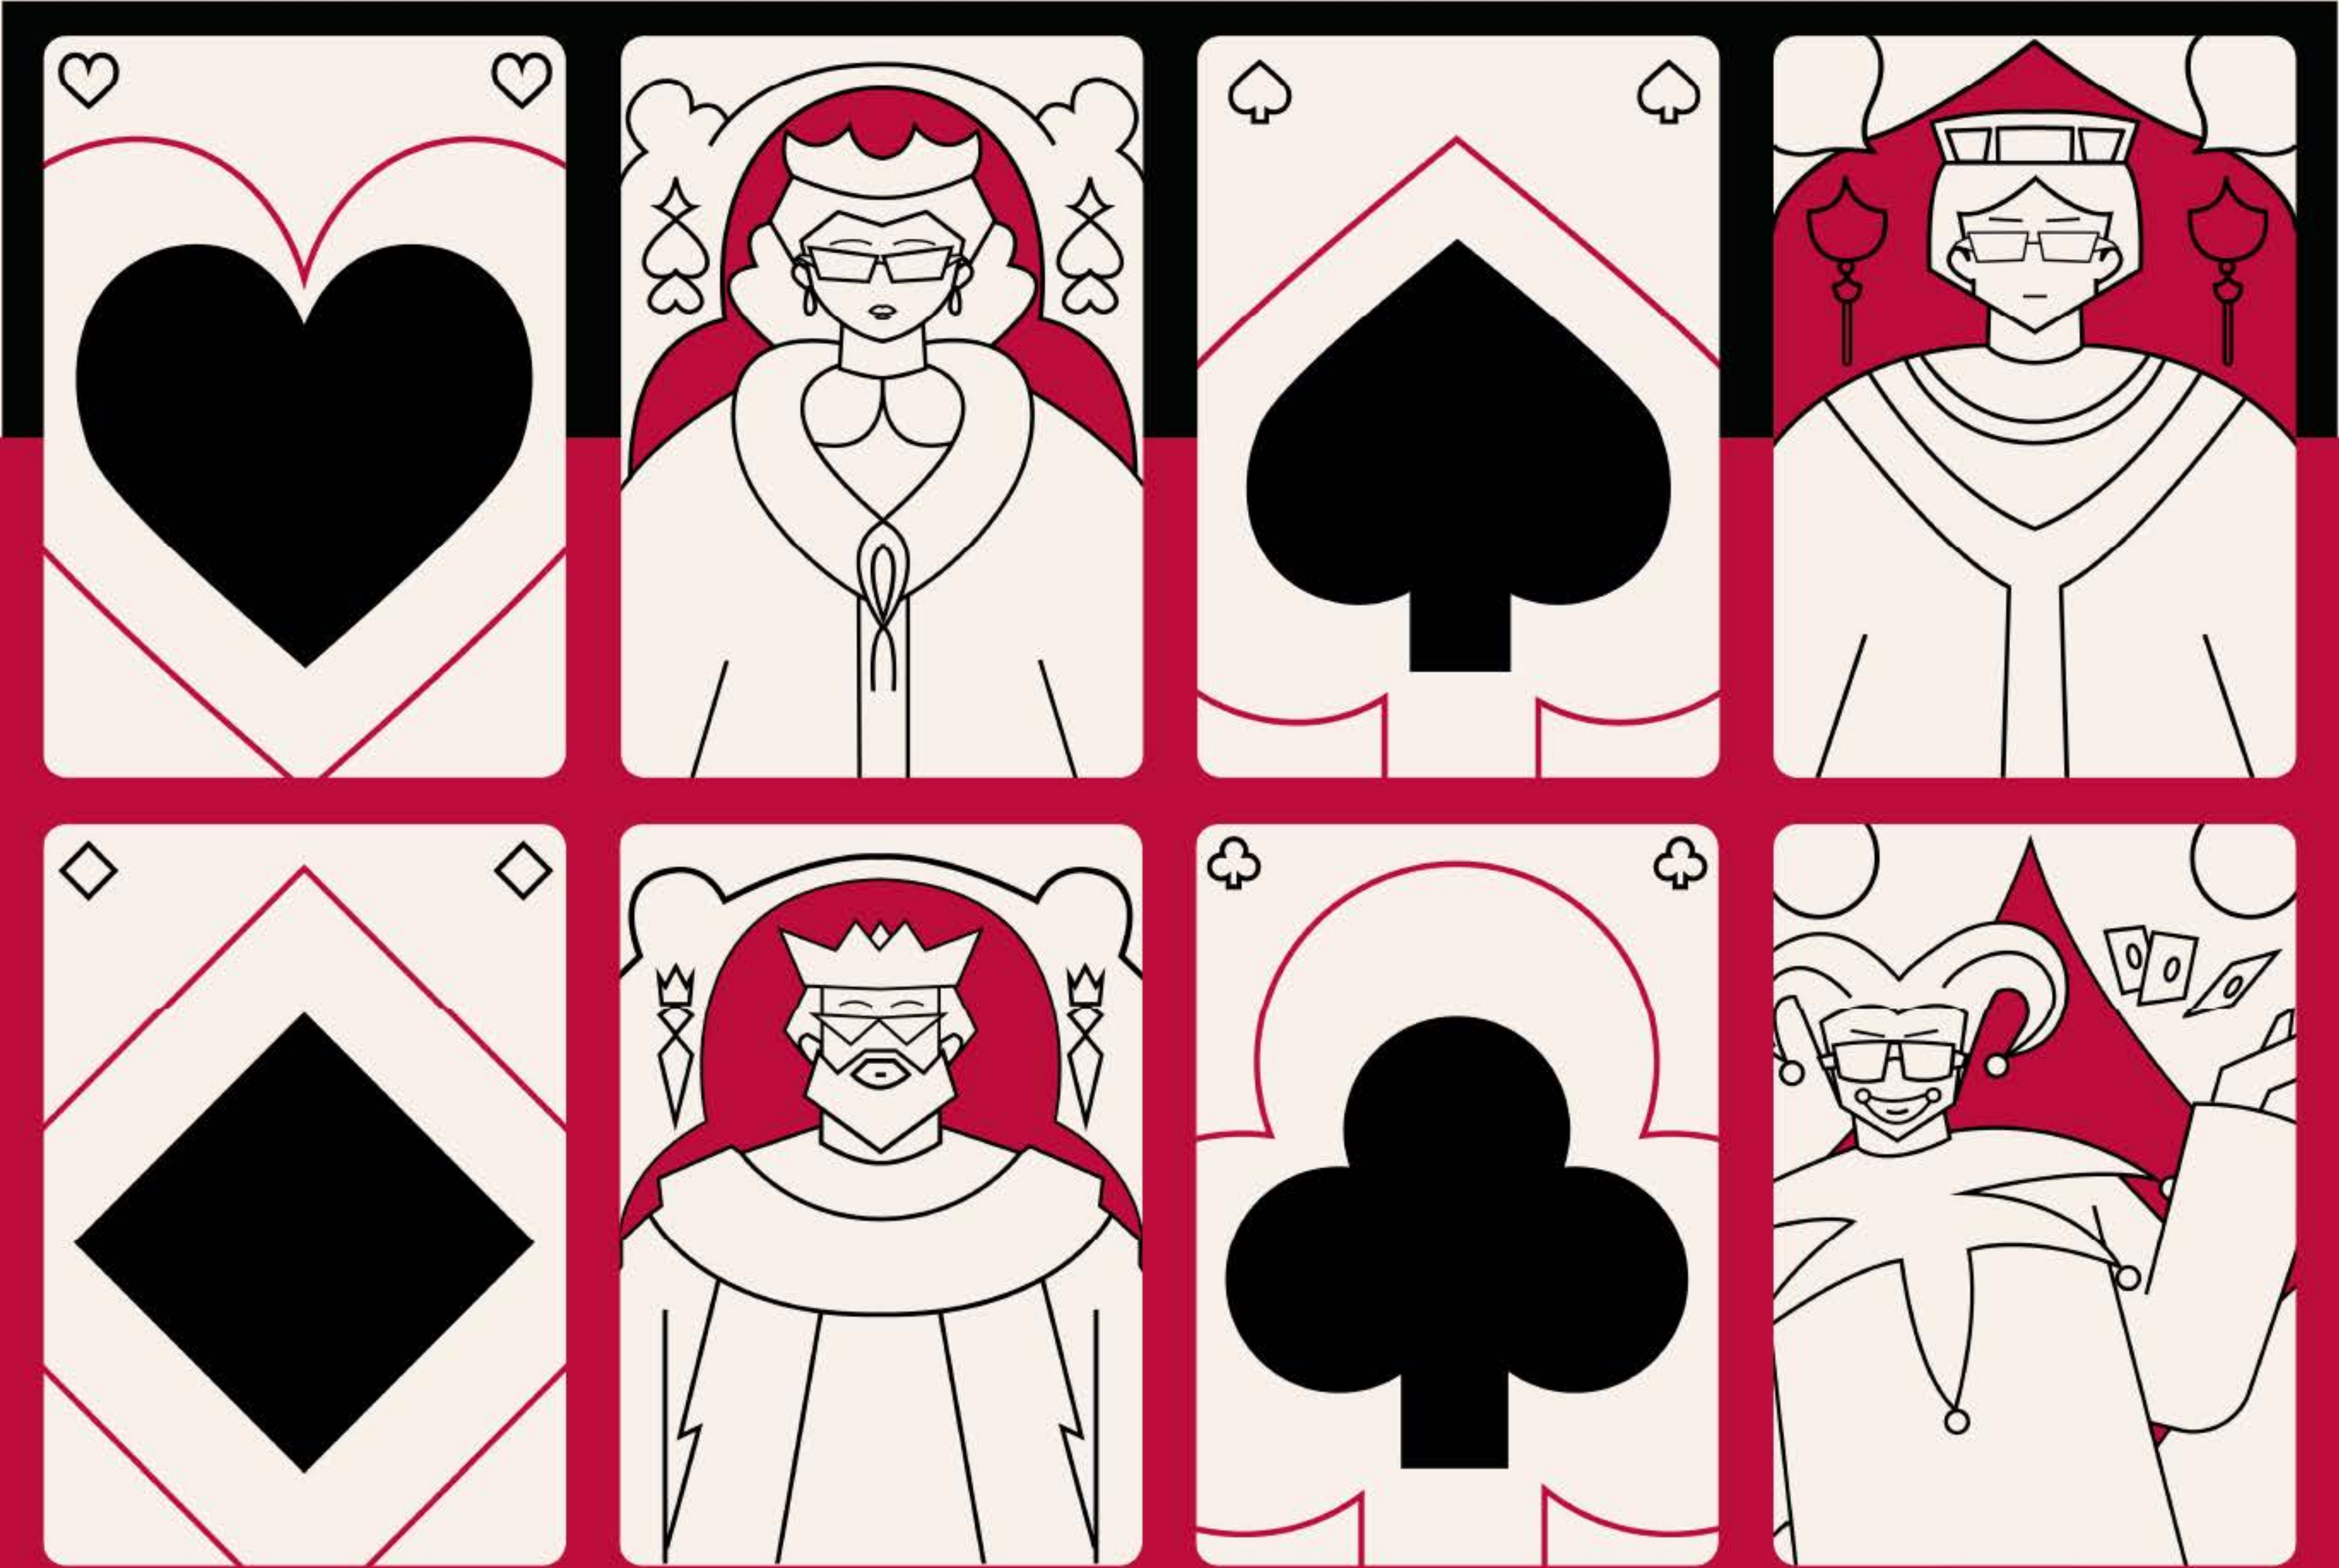

Bouns is a Saudi professional networking platform. My work included event branding materials, custom personality analysis cards, and character illustrations designed for the platform.

For this project, I created custom brand illustrations and designed a series of promotional cards that reflect the agency's funky, professional, and playful personality.

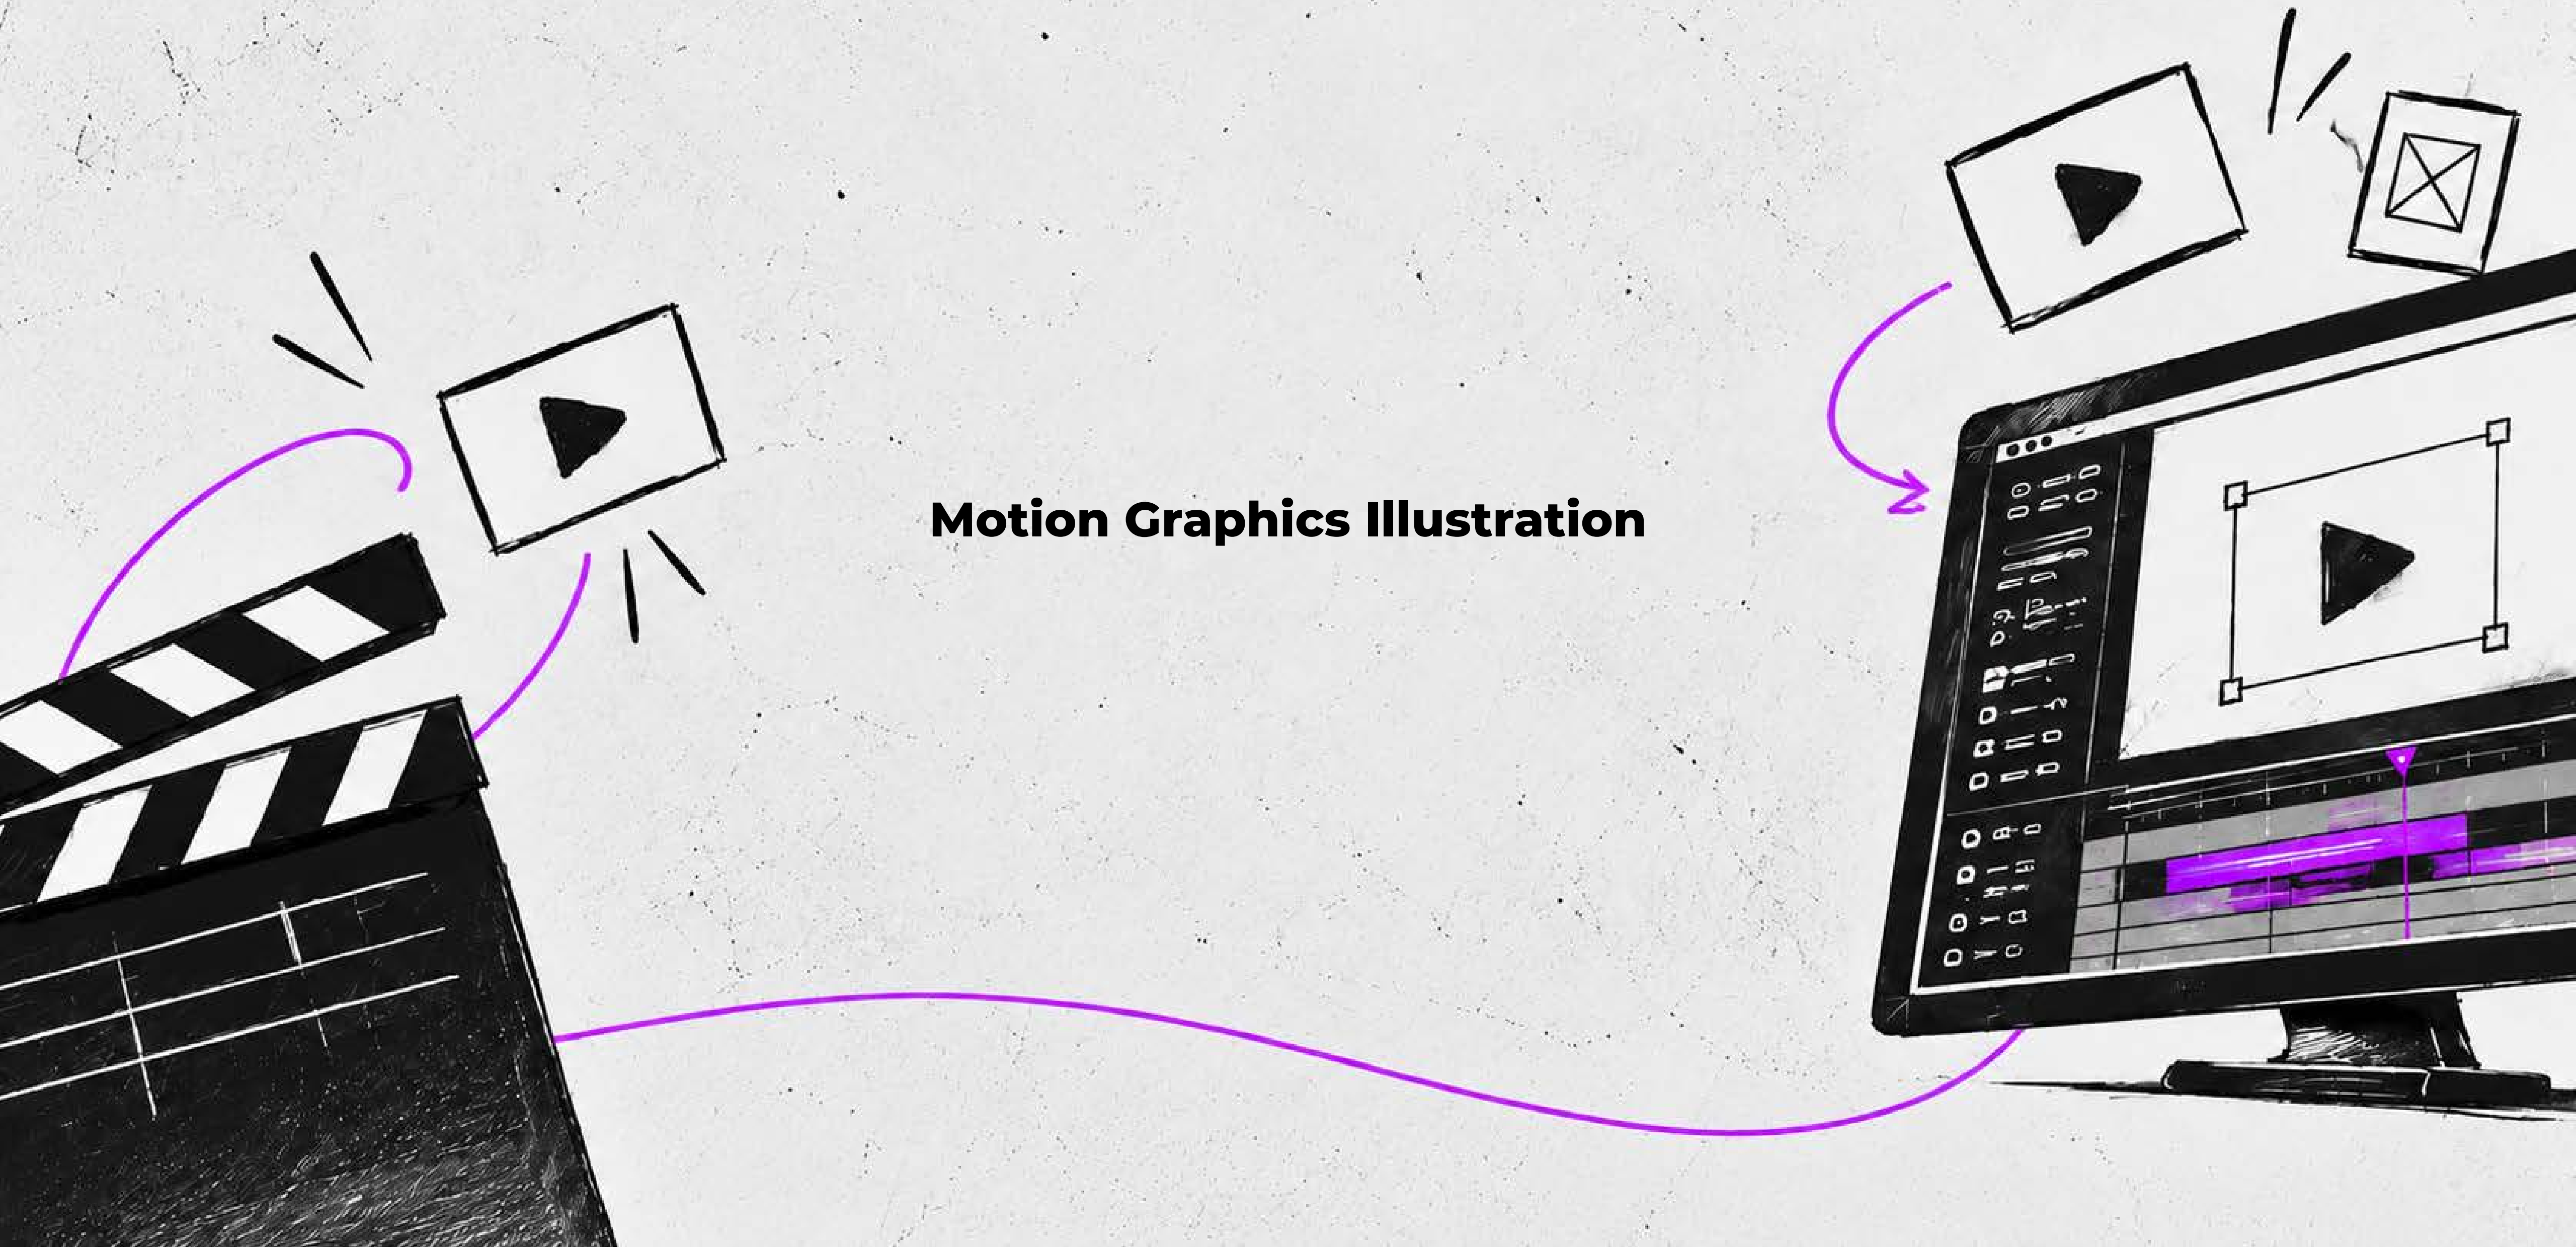

Kasr Napoli

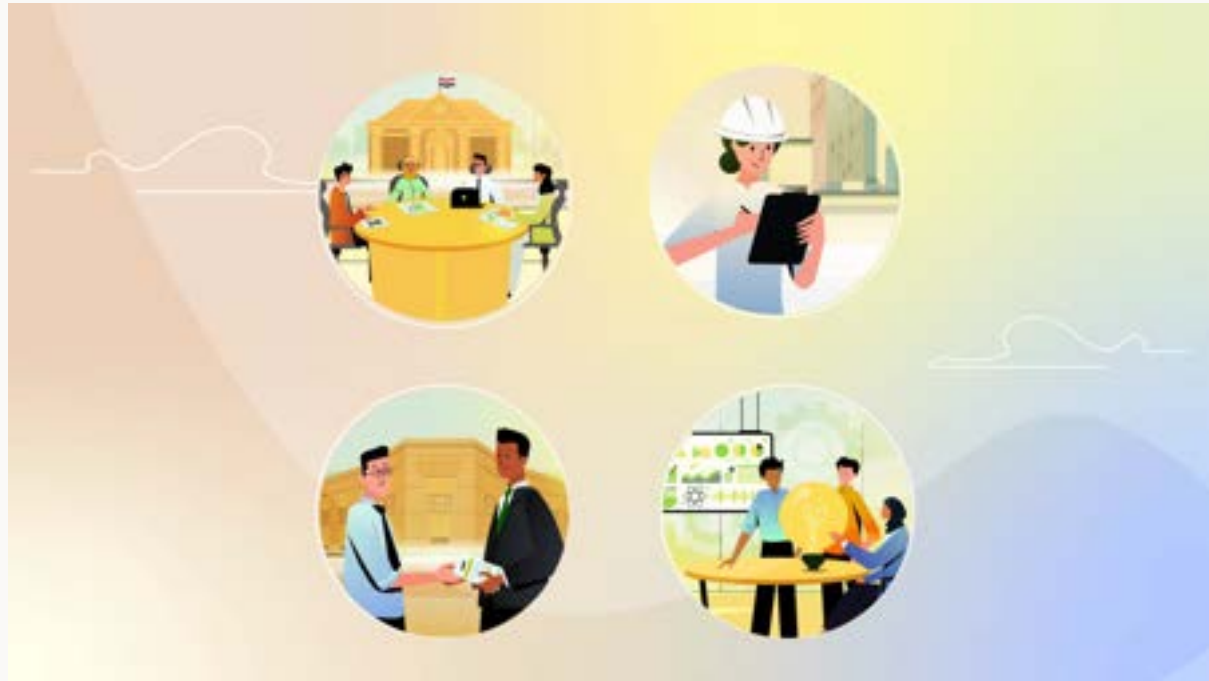

Created for a desserts and bakery brand, this Mawlid-inspired packaging illustration combines Egyptian folklore with a panoramic storytelling composition to capture the essence of the celebration.

Motion Graphics Illustration

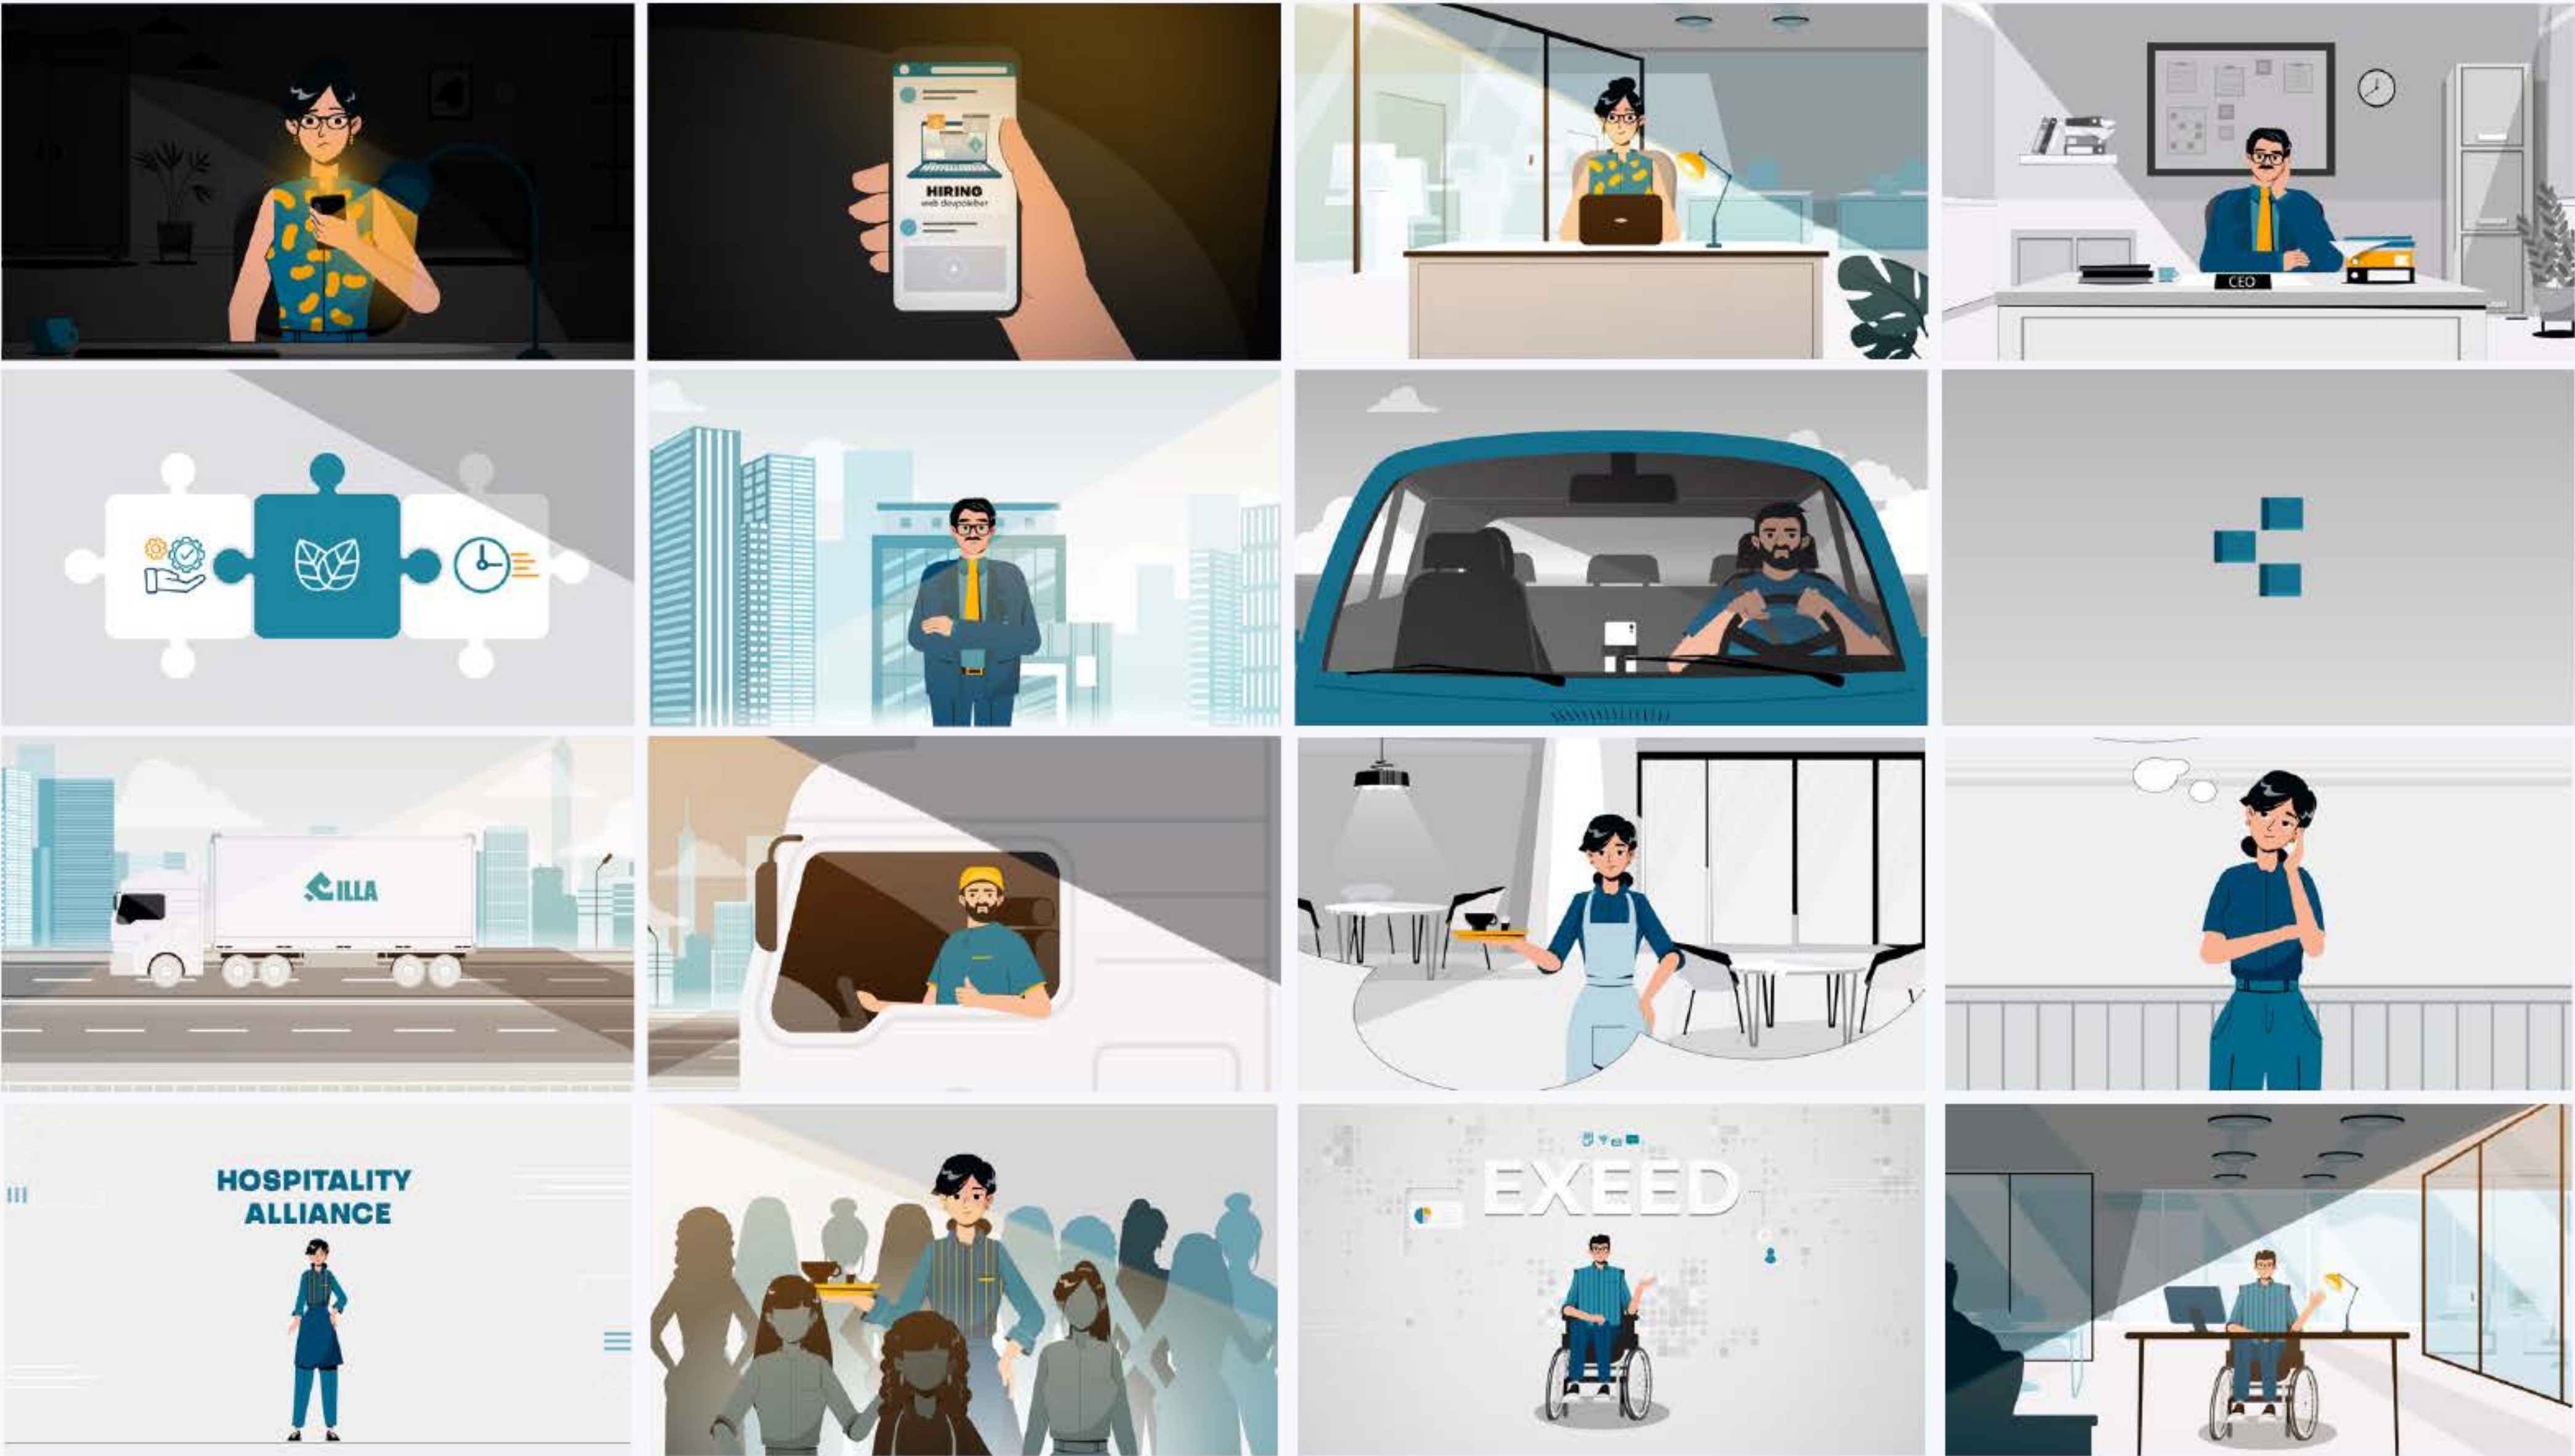

The illustration style combines an eco-conscious aesthetic with a friendly and approachable visual language.

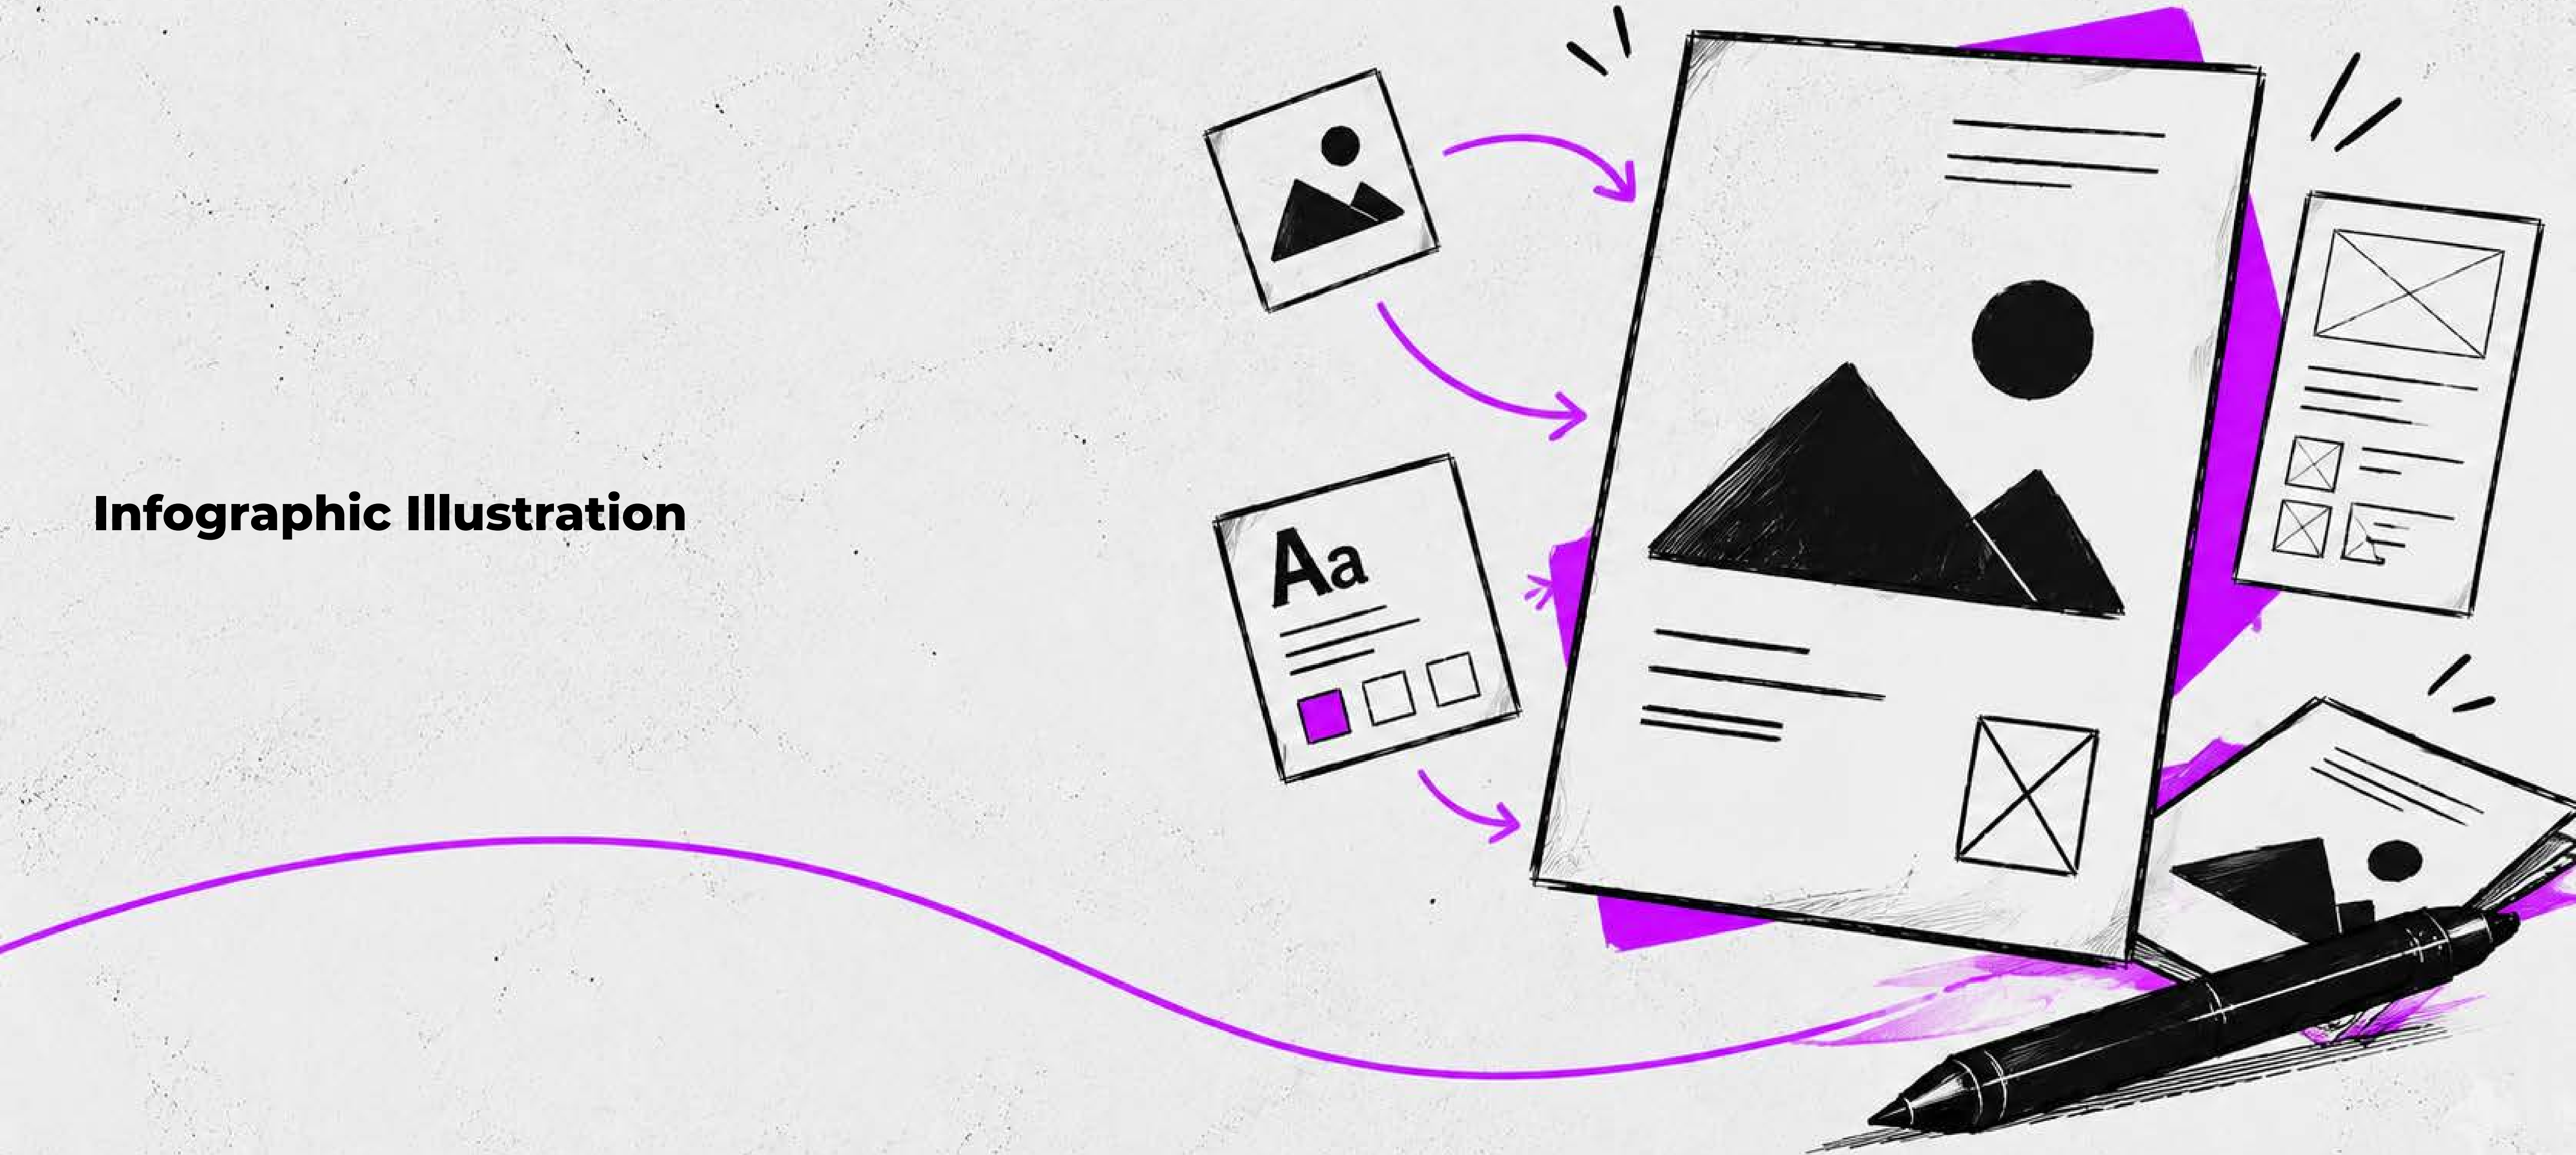

Al Mutahida for Education is an educational institution in Oman. We transformed illustrations from their textbooks into animation-ready keyframes, preparing them for motion and animation.

Infographic Illustration

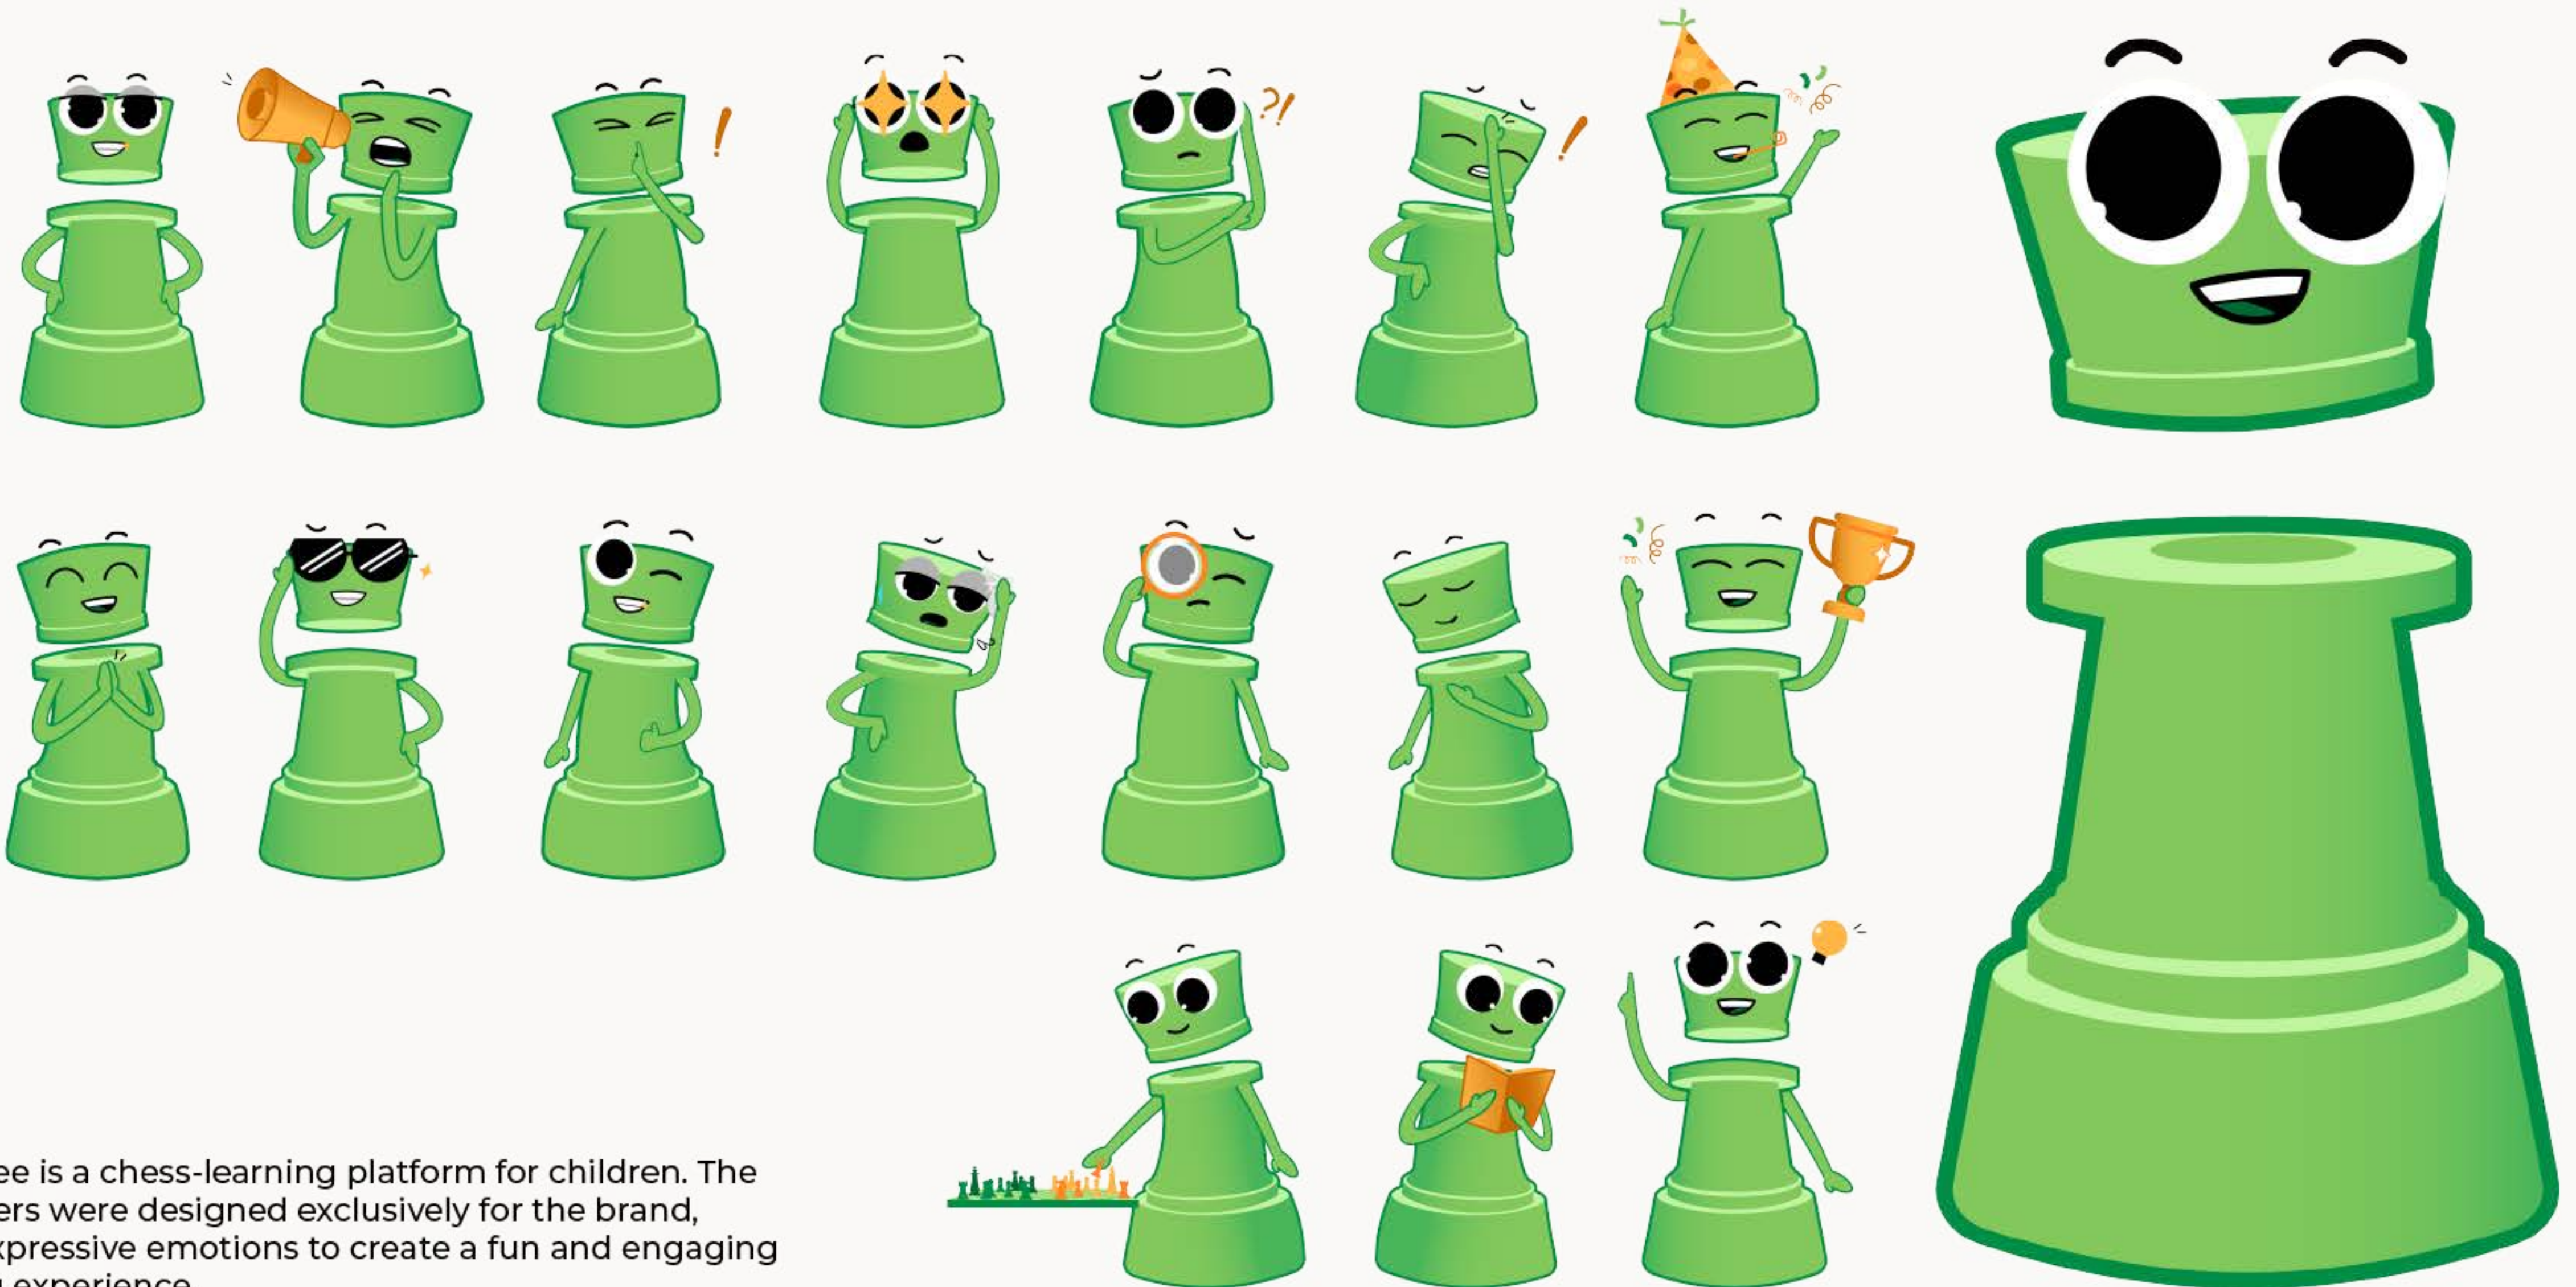

A visual poster designed to simplify and communicate a company's process through clear, easy-to-understand illustrations.

Custom illustrations designed to represent the client's services and create a consistent visual identity. The artwork is versatile and can be used across presentations, marketing materials, and various brand touchpoints.

Character Design

ThinkTree is a chess-learning platform for children. The characters were designed exclusively for the brand, using expressive emotions to create a fun and engaging learning experience.

Lolita is a candy-inspired character designed for a children's short film. The simplified visual style helps create a memorable and Engaging character for young audiences.
